SISTec creates Solar Powered Go-Cart Machine

Under its research project sponsored by NPIU

STAFF REPORTER ■ BHOPAL

Sagar Group's Sagar Institute of Science and Technology (SISTec) Gandhi Nagar mechanical engineering department has successfully created a Solar Powered Go-Cart machine under its research project sponsored by National Project Implementation Unit (NPIU) under Collaborative Research Scheme.

The department was accorded a grant under TEQIP-III by Rajiv Gandhi Proudyogiki University with a time limit of one year to complete the project. Dr. Rashmi Dwivedi with her commitment and dedication in the pandemic made it all to create the machine under the expert guidance of Dr. Sanjay Chhabra, Associate Professor, SISTec. The machine has inputs from Prof. Ashish Labade, Asst. Professor Computer Science Department at SISTec on IoT (Internet of Things) applications in using of the non-conventional source of energy.

Chetan Katole, Manish Kishor, Sanjay Choudhary and Mayur Choudhan students of Mechanical Department at SISTec also pitched in to complete the project before time. On a single charge the vehicle runs for 60 KM and takes about 12 hours for complete charge of its battery and the cost of making the vehicle is approx. ₹1,50,000 with efforts still on to reduce the costing.

Dr. Keshendra Chaudhary, Principal SISTec, Dr. Sonali Saxena, Vice Principal SISTec, Dr. Ravishanker V. Choudhri - HoD Mechanical Engineering have extended their gratitude towards Rajiv Gandhi Proudyogiki University for sanctioning the project. Sudhir Kumar Agrawal, Chairman Sagar Group and Siddharth Sudhir Agrawal, Managing Director, Sagar Group has congratulated Team SISTec, department of mechanical engineering, students and the faculties for their commendable efforts on imparting practical knowledge to students.

The Mechanical Engineering Department successfully created a Solar Powered Go-Cart machine in October 2020. It was done under the research project sponsored by the National Project Implementation Unit (NPIU) under the Collaborative Research Scheme. The department was accorded a grant under TEQIP-III by RGPV.

SISTec forms floating concrete blocks

STAFF REPORTER ■ BHOPAL

Sagar Group's Sagar Institute of Science and Technology (SISTec) Gandhi Nagar Civil Engineering Department has successfully prepared floating concrete in form of light weight blocks using the state-of-art SISTec Labs. Students used material of quartz sand, calcined gypsum, cement, fly ash, aluminium powder and water to create the block having durable strength.

The cost of creating four blocks is approx one thousand rupees. The light weight block can be used for reduction in dead loads making savings in foundations and reinforcement and has improved thermal properties and improved fire resistance and is saving of transportation cost.

Keshvendra Chaudhary, Principal SISTec, Swati Saxena, Vice Principal SISTec, Megha Jain - HoD Civil Engineering department congratulated the students for successful completion of project. Sudhir Kumar Agrawal, Chairman Sagar Group and Siddharth Sudhir Agrawal, Managing Director, Sagar Group have congratulated Team SISTec, department of civil engineering and faculties for their commendable efforts on imparting practical knowledge to students using SISTec Labs.

Innovation at SISTec

The Department of Civil Engineering successfully prepared Floating concrete in the form of lightweight blocks using state-of-art SISTec Labs and were highly appreciated by everyone.
