POEM

Covid a blessing to our earth

I know it sucks being in quarantine,
But i guess its better than running like a machine.
Sometimes doing nothing and staying at home can also be fun,
Atleast you got the time to think about yourself and not about the run.
You had your time to enjoy and embrace
But you wasted it by thinking about caste, religion and race.

Now its her time to rebuilt herself and take care of her.
She gave us everything to survive just like a mother.
I know we were so busy thinking about our greeds
Which made us forget about the things she needs.
I am sorry for the harm we caused to you,
I will try my best to make you the best version of you.
